Refund of Initial fees

We are happy to announce the successful completion of CCB-2011 counselling and admission process on 23rd August 2011 with the kind support and cooperation of all stakeholders.

We have already started the refund process as per the following priority.

1. Candidates who have reported and withdrawn before the end of third round.
2. Candidates who got seat allotment in the first three rounds, reported and not got admitted in the allotted Institute.
3. Candidates who surrendered their allotment and not allotted either in fourth or fifth round
4. Candidates who got allotment in fourth and fifth rounds and not admitted in allotted Institute.
5. Candidates who have not got allotment in spot round and not collected their Demand Drafts.

Those candidates who got admitted and cancelled their admission will receive the refund from the admitted Institute. Candidates may please note that we have uploaded a refund module wherein, one can obtain the eligibility and category and refund status through this link. The database is continuously updated. Please send e-mail to CCB incase of any difficulty.

Some Demand Drafts are not realised for want of correct information and hence there may be delay in some cases. In some cases candidates have given wrong bank account number. CCB-2011 would like to refund the money as early as possible. However since reconciliation of banks database is required, candidates and parents are requested to bear with us for any unintentional delay.

Such of those candidates who would like to get the refund by E-transfer to their account may please use the format provided in the website, sign it and send the scanned copy to CCB email-Id so that we can help you better.

Help us to serve you better.
